

FRANCESCA DE VALENCE

a musician inspired by all things creative

Dear ,

It's been a whole month. Hope you've not missed me too much. I've been busy getting engaged, surfing (I love it!), cooking heaps of yummy food, and not doing all that much music stuff. On good days I call it a well deserved break. But I've mentally whipped myself back into line so I can get back into my writing and touring plans this month.

In this newsletter is your invitation to become a Music Reviewer, a behind-the-scenes look at the EP artwork as written by my guest reviewer, and you can find out what new place I'll be touring to in a few short weeks time...

Want to be a Reviewer?

I changed my digital distributor recently and was SO sad to see that all my iTunes reviews had all been deleted in the process - apparantly this is something that happens. Five years and three EPs of reviews from my beautiful fans and supporters all lost 😞

Would you all do me a favour and write a little review on iTunes for me... it'd really make me feel a whole lot better. Click here to go to my iTunes page so you can leave a little public review...

Music Video:

Thank you for the comments and views on my "Beautiful Night" Music Video. If you've not checked it out, click here to watch it. It features Brisbane's stunning Story Bridge and images of myself and some family members as little kiddies...

Guest Blogger - Brett Moffatt:

I've invited the creator of the "Things That We Had Said" EP artwork, Brett Moffatt, to guest blog. His intriguing 5-minute read can be found here.
